Narrative

INITIAL NARRATIVE
Written by: Puleo, Jordan 1102542

Date/Time: 01/27/2022 15:10:00

On 1/27/22 at approximately 0839 hours, I was dispatched to contact the victim for a report of domestic violence which had occurred the night prior. The victim told Dispatch that he had been physically assaulted by his girlfriend, later identified as [redacted]

I contacted the victim via phone who told me the following in summary:

The victim had been dating [redacted] for approximately four years and the couple have a 2-year-old child in common. For the past year, the couple and their child have been living together at [redacted]. On 1/26/22 at approximately 2200 hours, the couple was in an argument over [redacted] cheating on the victim. During the argument, while the victim was at the kitchen sink washing dishes, [redacted] grabbed the sink sprayer and sprayed the victim in the face with it. [redacted] appeared to be upset with the victim's lack of response to being sprayed and punched the left side of the victim's face with her fist. [redacted] then began grabbing at the victim's face while the victim attempted to hold her off. [redacted] left the house after the short physical altercation and had not returned since. [redacted] was most likely at her parent's ([redacted]) or her brother's ([redacted]). The couple's child was not present for the assault. I asked the victim why he did not call last night and he told me because he wanted to see if they could make amends first.

I responded to the victim's residence and assessed his injuries. I observed two small red marks above his top lip which appeared to have been caused by fingernails. I did not initially notice any other wounds to the victim's face until he pulled back his lip where I observed the skin had been broken inside the victim left cheek, near his back molars. I photographed the victim's injuries and later uploaded the photographs to evidence.com.

The victim requested his name not be made public record and authorized the release of his medical records, although he advised he would not be seeking medical attention. After the lethality screening, the victim triggered the protocol but did not want to speak with a counselor. The victim stated he did not need an EPO and was provided with a resource pamphlet.

After checking [redacted], Deputy McGoon and I contacted [redacted] at [redacted].

I told [redacted] why I was there and she admitted to spraying the victim in the face with the sink sprayer. I told [redacted] that the victim was alleging she hit him in the face and that he had injuries to substantiate the claim. [redacted] stated she was trying to the leave the property during the argument and the victim was trying to stop her by grabbing her from behind. While the victim was trying to grab her, [redacted] swung backwards and struck the victim in the face. [redacted] then claimed the victim put her in a headlock while she was trying to leave and she had a witness to that part. The witness, [redacted] sister-in-law, [redacted] was in the parking lot of [redacted] and observed the victim grab [redacted] around the neck. [redacted] was inside [redacted] and I went in to talk to her. I asked [redacted] about the incident and [redacted] admitted she was not there and therefore did not witness anything.

I went back outside and confronted [redacted] who admitted to the lie. I explained to [redacted] that based on the allegations and the victim's injuries that she was under arrest for domestic violence. [redacted] was very cooperative.

I placed [redacted] in handcuffs, double locked them after checking them for spacing, and transported her to the MADF where she was booked for 273.5(a) PC.

Please forward this report to the DA's Office for prosecution.

Nothing further.
