Internal Affairs Investigation
19-IA-0001
Deputy [redacted] Statement

Sergeant Larry Doherty: The following will be a recorded interview conducted by myself, Sergeant Larry Doherty, the Sonoma County Sheriff's Office Internal Affairs Bureau. The date is 1/30/2019 and the time now, by my watch, is 1243 hours. I'm presently in one of the conference rooms with Deputy [redacted] and [redacted], for the record, could you say and spell your last name?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes. [redacted]

Sergeant Larry Doherty: How long have you worked here now?

Deputy [redacted]: [redacted].

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Good for you. And what's your current assignment?

Deputy [redacted]: Current assignment is a correctional deputy.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: No, I know that. I'm sorry. Uh, current, uh, shift and stuff.

Deputy [redacted]: Oh, sorry. Uh, [redacted].

Sergeant Larry Doherty: [redacted].

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Days off?

Deputy [redacted]: Uh, [redacted].

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Well, supposedly your days off.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Your scheduled days off, but not necessarily the days you get off.

Deputy [redacted]: Right.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Um, was that your assignment in January the 11th of this year?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes sir.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. My name's Larry. Um, were you, you were working swing shift then?

Deputy [redacted]: I was working [redacted].

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Did you have, were you asked to participate in a special assignment by Sergeant [redacted]r?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes I was.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Okay, I see you were working [redacted] that day.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes I was.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. So, you have specialties? You're obviously mental health then.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes, um, [redacted], as well as the [redacted] and the [redacted].

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Oh, good for you.

Deputy [redacted]: Thank you.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And [redacted]

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And, uh, capital letters?

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: I'm telling her. And what was the last one?

Deputy [redacted]: Uh, booking core team.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Oh, booking core.

Deputy [redacted]: Yeah.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Good for you. So, you're working on January 11. Sergeant [redacted] had made arrangements to do a search of D Module.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: So you got called up there to help?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Um, why don't you tell me what happened. Sergeant [redacted] talked to you guys?

Deputy [redacted]: Yeah, so, we staged beforehand. Uh, there's just gonna be simple module search, uh, we went in and we started doing our search and an inmate started to, um, disobey orders from one of the deputies. And so, from there, we ended up going up to his room because he wasn't staying off of his door as he was asked to. And we went up there. Um, he continued to –

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Please stop, and what do you mean by staying off his door?

Deputy [redacted]: – uh huh, so, he's standing at his door. He's visibly looking out his window looking at the, at the module, outside the module, what's happening, and during these searches, inmates are supposed to be seated on their bunks and away from the doors.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay, so that's what their directed to do. Sit on your bunks, away from the door.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes, yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And instead there was apparently an inmate who was standing at his door –

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: – and he's chirpin'.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. So, and had the searches already begun?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And, and what was the direction the sergeant gave you? We're gonna search this D mod because?

Deputy [redacted]: Yeah, because I believe, you know, I, actually I can't recall what the reason was.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay.

Deputy [redacted]: Yeah.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: What type of module is D Module?

Deputy [redacted]: It's a, uh, maximum and, uh, max behavioral problem, uh, module.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: So it's like almost one step below Ad Seg.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes, absolutely.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And Ad Seg is two words. A-D S-E-G.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Um, so, Sergeant [redacted] had obviously made arrangements to get all the deputies together to do a search based upon a reason you don't recall at this time.

Deputy [redacted]: Right.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: So, while you're doing this search, um, how big is D Module, uh, population wise?

Deputy [redacted]: I'd say it's around 70 approximately.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay, so you're not doing the whole module at one time.

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: You're doing sections.

Deputy [redacted]: Quadrants, yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Quadrants, so you divide it up into four?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And then what were you doin' with the inmates while you're doin' the search?

Deputy [redacted]: So, what we were, were doing was, we were, uh, cuffing them up at the door. Uh, they were pat-searched when they were brought out and then they were, um, told to sit down, kind of like right in the middle of the day room on these seats, uh, while the module deputy at the time was kinda giving them, um, how do I explain it? There was, he was giving them –

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Counseling?

Deputy [redacted]: – yes, counseling. Yeah and kind of expectations.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay.

Deputy [redacted]: Uh huh.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Of, of what their behavior was supposed to be like in that module.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Cause, I mean, one step below Ad Seg, still bad dudes.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Um, so you said you were doing your searches-

Deputy [redacted]: What's that?

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Oh, I thought you were going to go on.

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: You say you were doing your searches and then all of a sudden, your attention's, um,–

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: – drawn to this inmate who's chippin'.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes, mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay and so what happened?

Deputy [redacted]: So, at the time I was think, just comin' out of the cell and I heard Deputy [redacted] say hey, get off your doors. Go take a seat on your bunk to a specific inmate. And, uh, you know, he's yelling back at 'em, back at us, and Deputy [redacted] –

Sergeant Larry Doherty: The inmate?

Deputy [redacted]: – yes. And so Deputy [redacted] was like hey, let's go up there. Let's address this. Let's go ahead and cuff 'em up. We're gonna take him down to booking for a cool off just because he was being defiant and he wasn't exactly following the program at the time.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay.

Deputy [redacted]: So, uh, that's when we went up there and we addressed the issue and that's kind of where everything starts going from.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay, so you guys are down below.

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: [redacted], he was the one was givin' the verbal, uh, commands as far as on your bunk, sit back –

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: – and this one inmate, as opposed to doing that was standing at his door which is unacceptable.

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And two, he's –

Deputy [redacted]: Mouthing off.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: – mouthing off which is unacceptable.

Deputy [redacted]: Yeah, yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And so [redacted] decides after a certain amount of time that that's it, we're gonna go cool this guy off.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes, absolutely.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay, so, and most of the other inmates you would have them come to the door and after sitting down, turn around and then you hook them up and move them?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes, absolutely.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And, so that most of 'em were cooperating?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: You had dealt with so far. So, you get up there, it's you, [redacted], you know who else was up there at that time?

Deputy [redacted]: Morfin.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay.

Deputy [redacted]: Uh huh.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And so, when you guys get up there, does he eventually go to his bed?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes, so he eventually sits down.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay.

Deputy [redacted]: Um.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: When the three of you are outside the cell?

Deputy [redacted]: Ye, yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. And, and, and it's a single bunk cell?

Deputy [redacted]: Yeah.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: So just one guy in there?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. And, um, is he still chirpin'?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And do you remember anything specific he might have said?

Deputy [redacted]: Uh, I remember him saying you know, f you guys, um, and at this time we're tellin' him hey, stand up, come over to us, and cuff up. That's when he's like, I'm not comin' out. And that I remember specifically him saying.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay.

Deputy [redacted]: Yeah.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Um, do you remember who opened the door?

Deputy [redacted]: I don't recall.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. It wasn't you?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay, so it would have been Morfin and/or [redacted]?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. So, somebody opened the door and then who went in?

Deputy [redacted]: I believe, I believe, I wanna say it was Morfin, who went in first, uh, and then [redacted] and then, but I think [redacted] and I were kinda at the door and Morfin was like maybe just at the threshold.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay.

Deputy [redacted]: And that's kinda how I remember our stack being.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay.

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: So, you guys go over to him. He's seated on the bunk.

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: What happens next?

Deputy [redacted]: So, um, we're tellin' him to come over. He's not comin' over. So, for on my re, what I remember is Morfin actually making entry over to him, um, and then making contact with him.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And, and what do you mean by contact?

Deputy [redacted]: So he goes over, hey, he grabs his, uh, the inmate's right arm, uh, like his elbow, saying hey, stand up, um, right at the elbow and he's saying no, I'm not gonna get up.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay, and then what happens?

Deputy [redacted]: And then he, from what I remember, is the inmate, [redacted], or [redacted], pulls away and that's when, uh, there's kind of a scuffle that went on from there.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Do you know Inmate [redacted]?

Deputy [redacted]: Uh, yes, I know him previously just from being in D Mod.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Uh, just from in the cell.

Deputy [redacted]: Yeah.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: But you had, you had any incidences with, uh, [redacted]?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: So, he, Morfin grabs his right elbow and he pulls away.

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: [redacted].

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Then what happens?

Deputy [redacted]: And then, so I remember, they both kinda fell. Like I remember Morfin pushing him and possibly throwing like an elbow strike or going for one, um, can't recall if they made contact or not, and then they were both just kinda like, Morfin was stacked on top of [redacted] on the bunk.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay.

Deputy [redacted]: Uh, and then, um, from there he's just giving orders, give me your hands, give me your hands, um, Morfin proceeds to throw strikes. I can't recall what types.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay.

Deputy [redacted]: Uh, but approximately like three or four of them I wanna say.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay, so, at this point do you start to move in?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: To give him help.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And, and again this is a small cell.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: So you got, um, [redacted], Morfin and now yourself –

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: – and even with just one in there, it's tight.

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: With two it's tighter.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: With three –

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: – it's wiggle room.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Barely. And so you get in there –

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: – and Morfin's addressing some type of strikes. How do you know he's throwing strikes? Do you hear him? Do you see him?

Deputy [redacted]: I see just, uh, I see it. And it's just, I just see motions of –

Sergeant Larry Doherty: So you don't know if he's using his fist and/or his elbow?

Deputy [redacted]: – yes, I can't recall.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Cause he's got his back to you.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: As your entry.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: So, do you go over there to try to assist him in handcuffing?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes and just tying to maintain, maintain control of the inmate. Uh, but again it was hard to see because the way the stack went in, Morfin, it was Morfin first and [redacted]. [redacted] is a lot bigger guy than I am.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Yeah.

Deputy [redacted]: So he's kinda obscuring my view. Uh, so, only caught pieces of just what happened.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Does [redacted] stop at the desk?

Deputy [redacted]: I wanna say yeah, maybe more towards like the toilet and I'm kinda like, kinda crammed right here.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. And so, the guy's on the bed.

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Morfin's on top of him and you're right here?

Deputy [redacted]: Yeah.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Which way is, um –

Deputy [redacted]: And I wanna say even like [redacted] is like more right in front of me there.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: – okay

Deputy [redacted]: Yeah.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And which way is the head?

Deputy [redacted]: His head is over here.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: So, his head is in the picture that I have drawn, is let's say to the side of the desk.

Deputy [redacted]: Yeah.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. And Morfin is over there somewhere too on top?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. So, if you go in there. You're on the toilet side of the room, –

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: – past the toilet. [redacted] somewhere between the toilet and the desk.

Deputy [redacted]: Yeah.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Then what happens?

Deputy [redacted]: So then –

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Are you verbalizing?

Deputy [redacted]: – yeah.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And is Morfin verbalizing?

Deputy [redacted]: Uh, I just hear Morfin, uh, verbalizing, um, –

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Um, tellin' him to –

Deputy [redacted]: – yeah, to, you know, gimme your hands, gimme your hands, um, stop resisting. And from there, I don't know how, but they kinda slid off the bunk and then they're on the floor. So they kind of, uh, [redacted] head is just like right kinda almost underneath his bunk and then like under his desk in a sense.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: – okay.

Deputy [redacted]: Um, and then, that's where I jump up onto the desk, or sorry, onto the bunk and I'm trying to just grab ahold of, uh, an extremity just to get control, but I don't have it, I don't have any reach towards it, so that's where I kinda stopped and, and I think I repositioned myself and come back around.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay.

Deputy [redacted]: And that's when I remember, uh, [redacted] coming in and [redacted] being in there all of a sudden.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay.

Deputy [redacted]: Yeah.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Did you ever hear [redacted] say anything?

Deputy [redacted]: Not that I recall.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Taser, taser, taser.

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Don't remember that?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Um, M[redacted] ends up comin' in?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Um, they ended up on the floor –

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: – and you don't know how that happened.

Deputy [redacted]: Mm mm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Did you ever deliver any strikes and/or blows?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Did [redacted] ever deliver any strikes or blow that you know of?

Deputy [redacted]: Not that I recall.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Did Morfin deliver any more strikes and/or blows?

Deputy [redacted]: I believe so.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. And you say I believe so, what does that mean?

Deputy [redacted]: Um, I'm not entirely sure. I should say.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Uh, did you ever see him use any knee strikes?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Did you ever see him kick the inmate?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Um, so, you're here along with [redacted], along with Morfin, and –

Deputy [redacted]: [redacted]

Sergeant Larry Doherty: – and [redacted] is in here and [redacted] is somewhere too.

Deputy [redacted]: Somewhere and, and [redacted] in there too.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Yeah. So, you guys eventually get him handcuffed?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Were any more blows delivered after that?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Who helped get him handcuffed? You and?

Deputy [redacted]: I believe it, it was me that handcuffed him up.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay.

Deputy [redacted]: So, at the time, yeah, [redacted] I think controlling one arm. I can't recall who was controlling the other, possibly Morfin, um, and that's where they, they finally were able to secure his hands to the small of his back so that's where I went in to apply the cuffs.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay.

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: You don't recall grabbing a hand and pulling it back? Or do you think all of a sudden the hands were together.

Deputy [redacted]: I just remember the hands were there and then me applying cuffs.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Um, so you don't recall Morfin delivering any, um, knee and/or foot strikes?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: But you never used any strikes?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: As far as you know, did [redacted] use any strikes?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: [redacted]?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: [redacted]? And Wilde is [redacted], sorry.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Um, so, and [redacted] is [redacted]. So you didn't see any of that. So, once he was handcuffed –

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: – what happened?

Deputy [redacted]: Uh, he was escorted to his feet, um, assisted to his feet, and then he was walked out of the cell.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay, and who walked him out?

Deputy [redacted]: Uh, I, I can't recall. I, I know for sure Morfin was there and that, that's all I can say for sure.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay.

Deputy [redacted]: Uh huh.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And then you didn't leave the unit with him.

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: As far as you know he was going down to booking.

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: So Morfin was one of the guys that was taking him to booking?

Deputy [redacted]: Yeah, yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And you don't know who the other deputy was that escort, escorted?

Deputy [redacted]: No, I can't recall.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Um, was [redacted] still, uh, chippin'?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes, he was.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Anything specific that you could recall?

Deputy [redacted]: Uh, the typical F you, um, I believe I remember, I remember him saying, uh, he was making, I guess threats towards Morfin saying I would win on like a one on one fight against you in, in essence.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Did Morfin respond?

Deputy [redacted]: Not that I recall.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Um, did you go back to helping assist with the search of D Module?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes, I remained in the unit and continued searching.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: With the rest of the inmates, did you ever have any other problems like [redacted]?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Um, did you talk to Morfin after that?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Did you talk to [redacted] after that?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: In regards to that cell removal?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Did you talk to [redacted]?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: [redacted]?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: How about Sergeant [redacted]?

Deputy [redacted]: Uh, he asked me if I was in the cell.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay.

Deputy [redacted]: That was it. Yeah, in regards to it.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. He didn't ask you to write a report.

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Um, how about Sergeant [redacted]?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And/or Sergeant and [redacted].

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: And that's [redacted]

[redacted]: [redacted]

Sergeant Larry Doherty: [redacted]S. Um, and so they didn't ask you to do anything either in regards to writing a report.

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. And you didn't have a conversation with them after that event.

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Um, based upon your training –

Deputy [redacted]: Mm hmm.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: – do you think the strikes and/or, just the strikes that Morfin was applying was appropriate based upon, um, the inmate's conduct?

Deputy [redacted]: Yes.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay, so, um, to deliver the strikes just 'cause he was hiding his hands and wasn't cooperating.

Deputy [redacted]: Yeah.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Could we have slowed it down a little bit?

Deputy [redacted]: I think so.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. Um, and you don't remember any knees and/or foot strikes?

Deputy [redacted]: Not that I recall.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. But then you got your face buried too.

Deputy [redacted]: In, what do you mean?

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Down in there trying to get the arms.

Deputy [redacted]: Oh, yeah. Uh huh.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Um, trying to get * 'cause that's very confining.

Deputy [redacted]: Yeah.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Um, the amount and you're very limited in that environment that type of a cell.

Deputy [redacted]: Yeah. I just remember being trapped behind [redacted] and [redacted] just tryin' to help out.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Yeah. Is there anything that I haven't asked that you think's important?

Deputy [redacted]: No.

Sergeant Larry Doherty: Okay. I'm gonna go ahead and end this interview. The time now by my watch is 1259 hours. Thank you.
